Report Denied

MADRID — Spain denied reports that American troops took part in joint maneuvers to practice putting down a hypothetical rebellion against the Spanish government.

Columnist Flora Lewis reported alleged findings by a Senate investigative staff describing the exercises in 1967 and 1968. The Spanish government said the maneuvers had been aimed at possible foreign invasion.

TV not news as such